You Can Be Nice To The Environment Without Blowing Money On Pricey Organic Clothes

Apr 22, 2009

MOBama has made affordable fashion hot and with the administration putting a priority on green efforts, eco-fashion is becoming more affordable than ever. You no longer have to shell out for Stella McCartney stuff on YOOXYGEN -- there's now such a thing as a big green bargain.

Payless has a new line out by Zac & Zoe that offers organic shoes like these Aspen Hooded Sandals ($27) at very Payless prices.

Forget Loomstate. Target has a bunch of eco-friendly finds that don't require a fancy launch date. Check out this leaf bracelet ($40) made from recycled metal.

For an affordable line of tops, check out the Revenge Is line, where we found this incredibly well-fitting, soft, and on-trend graphic Earth Day tee ($32).

Shop our guide for more ways to buy - and wear - green.
