WHAT'S HOT · WHAT'S COOL · WHAT'S NOW

LOVE IS THE NEW BLACK

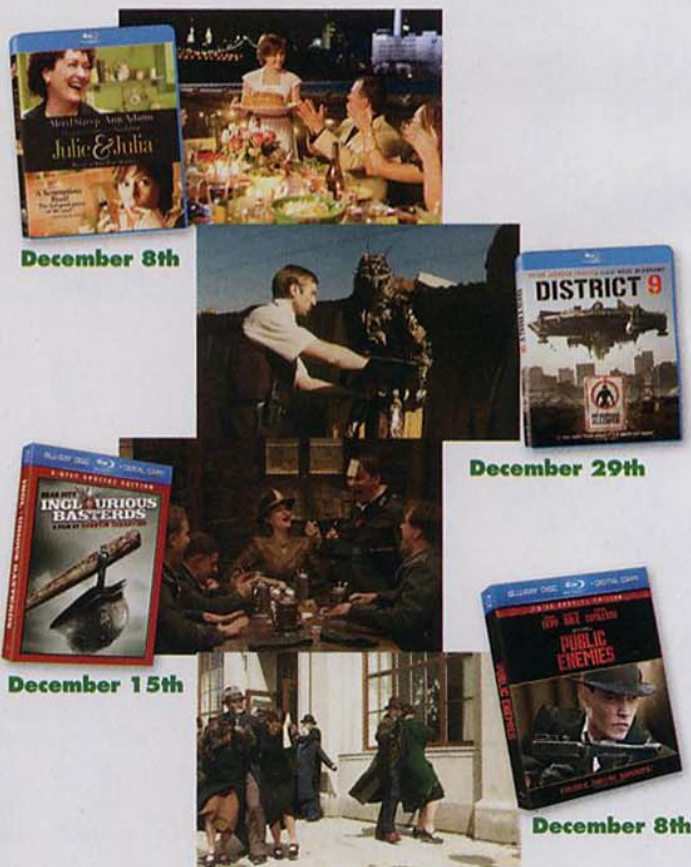

A message T is always a little dicey. It can go horribly wrong (think "Welcome to the Guns Show") or in this case, so perfectly stylishly right. Revenge Is... T-shirt Company has long been using fashion to make a statement, seeing as how their shirts are super green, made from organic cotton and recycled water bottles, and printed with non-toxic soy-based inks. And while the environment is still of importance to founder Marilyn Barrett, so too is equality. That's why Revenge Is... launched their "All Love Is Equal" shirts for men and women. It's a pretty simple message that would make the perfect gift for just about anyone on your list this season. And more than just looking hot, the shirts put their money where their style is, with a portion of the $32 price tag going back to support efforts to repeal Prop. 8. PRIZE PATROL

DINNER AND AH... FOUR MOVIES

Some of our best actors—and best-looking, depending on whom you ask—and some little-known, not-quite-as-cute aliens from the apocalyptic and allegorical District 9 take center stage for this issue's Prize Patrol. And while the visitors quarantined to District 9 may indulge on cat food for kicks, and Brad Pitt and Johnny Depp may be edible in their own right, in the tradition of diva-Streep's love-affair-with-food opus, we want to know what you would serve at your ultimate dinner soiree and which five people (or aliens) in all the world—or any world—you'd want to sit down with for this delectable meal and why? You get bonus points/prize if you can rattle off what Julia Child recipe you'd prepare for the feast!

To win your very own Blu-ray or DVD e-mail us at PRIZEPATROL@INSTINCTMAG.COM and be sure to specify which title and format you prefer. Otherwise we'll get cranky and we'll be forced to come find you and add you to our simmering pot of annual winter stew. —WALLY KING
